Dennis Kempner of Biel's Information Technology Systems Appointed to IIMDA Executive Board

February 12, 2009 (Buffalo, NY): Biel's Information Technology Systems today announced that Dennis Kempner, President, has been appointed to the Independent Information Management Dealers Association (IIMDA) executive board. IIMDA is recognized as North America's leading consortium on the document management industry, providing professional development opportunities, education and also forecasting upcoming industry trends for its members. Comprised of independent industry leading organizations, IIMDA members are positioned to provide their clients with the ideal solution to meet their needs. "We are excited to have Dennis join the board and look forward to his insight and input as we continue to grow our organization," said Ron Thompson Jr., Board President.

Dennis will be joined on the board by Ron Thompson Jr. of OSAM Document Solutions in Phoenix, Irene Price of West Canadian in Calgary, Jim Sheridan of the New York based DRS Group and Kevin D'Arcy MES Hybrid Document Systems of Ontario. "I have always had high regard for IIMDA and I'm honored to join the executive board," said Dennis. "I am eager to work with the other members of the board to help build on the tremendous work IIMDA does for its members. As companies look towards document management solutions to help increase profits and become paperless, it's wonderful to know I can be part of an organization dedicated to the cause."

As the President of Biel's Information Technology Systems, Dennis is responsible for spearheading the use of leading edge document management systems throughout New York State and Pennsylvania. Focused on helping clients achieve their goals of a paperless office, Dennis currently oversees the business development of their electronic document/content software, document scanning hardware and conversion services. For many years, he has been recommending and implementing successful initiatives with a broad range of big and small firms, government, educational and non-profit organizations. Biel's Information Technology Systems is driven to help clients achieve a higher level of productivity, profitability, efficiency and sustainability through industry-leading document management solutions.
