Biel's Information Technology Systems hires VP Sales, Marketing & Support.

Buffalo, New York (February, 2010) – Biel's Information Technology Systems, the local leader and innovator of document management solutions, hires Michael Stroh as VP of Sales, Marketing & Support.

Michael Stroh has been an unofficial member of the Biel's team for almost 10 years. He has worked with Biel's on strategic planning, training and sales planning as a consultant. With an MBA from Canisuis College, Michael served as an executive in charge of sales and marketing for a large bank before starting his own business and consulting with hundreds of clients on sales and marketing issues. He also just completed an assignment as chief operating officer for a large sales and service company.

Since 1939, Biel's Information Technology Systems has utilized advanced document management solutions using digital and microfilm technology to enhance company productivity. They service many major companies and government institutions in Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and throughout New York State and northwestern Pennsylvania. The company provides complete professional document management services. Biel's also provides scanning services for most major electronic imaging systems and also offers a full range of scanners, micrographic equipment and supplies with a factory-trained service department for technical support of all equipment lines.
